A MEAN SLANDER.

We have pointed out in nearly all the manufacturing counties of this and other states the Democratic party's policy of the tariff agitation upon the farming classes. This supposition is clinched by the returns from the distinctly agricultural counties of New York State.—The Observer.

The above is a mean and willful slander on the "manufacturing centres" of the state. The assertion is sustained by picking out a few isolated districts here and there, like two words in Utica or the City of Albany, where local causes prevailed over the great question of protection. The only fair method is to take the gains in the manufacturing counties and compare them with the entire state. This we will endeavor to do.

The leading manufacturing counties of the state are Albany, Broome, Cayuga, Chemung, Clinton, Cortland, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Fulton, Herkimer, Kings, Monroe, Montgomery, New York, Oneida, Onondaga, Orange, Oswego, Rensselaer, Rockland, Schenectady, Ulster, Wayne and Westchester. These counties all contain cities or large towns which are manufacturing centres. Some of them have a rural population also, but as this element is dependent largely upon the factories for its market, it would be quite likely to vote for the interest of the factories.

The twenty-five counties named above, according to the table which we published yesterday, cast 426,890 votes for Harrison to 366,337 for Blaine, a gain of 60,553. This gain is 164 per cent, as any schoolboy can demonstrate. According to the same table the total vote for Harrison in the entire state is 629,064 with small counties to hear from which will not add more than 5,000 to the Republican column. Making this allowance for these two counties, the total for Harrison in the state becomes 645,094. In 1880 Mr. Blaine's total was 562,001. The Republican gain in the whole state, therefore, is 8,093, or 144 per cent. The thirty-five rural counties by the same table cast 218,174 votes for Harrison, against 195,664 for Blaine. This is a gain of 22,510 votes or 114 per cent. The gain in the manufacturing counties is 24 per cent greater than in those that contain almost exclusively agricultural population.

Another and even more conclusive test is the vote of those counties exclusively which contain the largest manufacturing cities of the state. We give the vote in full for 1884 and 1888:

	1884.	1888.
Albany	17,628	43,344
Broome	12,344	18,796
Cayuga	12,344	18,796
Chemung	12,344	18,796
Clinton	12,344	18,796
Cortland	12,344	18,796
Dutchess	12,344	18,796
Erie	12,344	18,796
Essex	12,344	18,796
Fulton	12,344	18,796
Herkimer	12,344	18,796
Kings	12,344	18,796
Monroe	12,344	18,796
Montgomery	12,344	18,796
New York	12,344	18,796
Oneida	12,344	18,796
Onondaga	12,344	18,796
Orange	12,344	18,796
Oswego	12,344	18,796
Rensselaer	12,344	18,796
Rockland	12,344	18,796
Schenectady	12,344	18,796
Ulster	12,344	18,796
Wayne	12,344	18,796
Westchester	12,344	18,796

In these eight great manufacturing centres Harrison's gain upon Blaine is 47,213, or 18.86 per cent. Cleveland's gain over his vote in 1884 is 52,242 or 18.13 per cent. Even in these great centres the Republican gain is three-fourths of one per cent over the Democratic. If New York is excluded the other counties, all large manufacturing centres, show an actual majority for Harrison of 751, against a majority of 5,863 for Cleveland in 1884. In the counties of Albany, Erie, Kings, Monroe, Oneida, Onondaga and Rensselaer Harrison gains 31,556 votes over Blaine, or nearly 20 per cent, while Cleveland gains 24,842 over his vote of 1884, or less than 15 per cent.

The Democrats wrong themselves in trying to hide their defeat behind a juggle of figures. They have been beaten on the tariff issue, and beaten in the manufacturing centres of the state. If the gains of the Republican party had been no larger in these centres than in the rural counties it would have been defeated. The Democrats have four years in which to make another educational experiment with the theories of free trade if they please. But in the meantime the Republican party will continue the educational process of steady employment at good wages and a constantly increasing prosperity.

PITCHING INTO THE FARMERS.

It is now in order for the Democratic press to abuse the farmers for refusing to be "educated up" to the great principle of free trade. Here is another dose from the Utica Observer, a second article on the subject. We quote:

The results in New Jersey, Connecticut and the cities generally of this state show clearly enough that the workmen of our manufacturing centres gave more intelligent support to the question of tariff reform than any of our agricultural districts. It was in the rural districts that the old war ideas and their strongest supporters found a friend of ours. "How about that three hundred million dollar tariff?" they asked. "What is to carry the election?" "What is to say in such a case?" Only this, that the smart fellows who played off a lie on Lord Seckville knew pretty well what kind of people they were working for, and if "gougeons" are voters it pays well to catch "gougeons" as any other fish.

Now get right down to the foul work of blackguarding the farmers. They have stood nobly by the principles and the party that came between them and free wool, free vegetables, free lumber, free milk, etc. And yet they did not elect Harrison, there were not enough of them to do it. The great manufacturing counties of Albany, Erie, Kings, Monroe, Oneida, Onondaga and Rensselaer gave a majority to Harrison of 751, against a majority for Cleveland of 5,863 in 1884. Here is 6,614 of the 14,000 or 15,000 accounted for. The smaller manufacturing counties of Broome, Cayuga, Chemung, Clinton, Cortland, Dutchess, Essex, Fulton, Herkimer, Montgomery, Orange, Oswego, Rockland, Schenectady, Ulster, Wayne and Westchester gave Harrison a gain over Blaine of 23,840, and Cleveland a gain over his vote of 1884 of only 7,784. Here is another net gain of 15,556, making a total gain of 22,170 in the manufacturing counties of the state excluding New York, which was controlled chiefly by bludgeon, and where the slum element outvotes the workmen. The farmers could not have carried the state without the great gain that the Republican party received from the manufacturing centres. All the same it is in order for the Democratic press to call them "gougeons." They did not take kindly to Mr. Blaine's "campaign of intellect."

STILL TRYING TO STEAL SOMETHING.

The Democrats having abandoned, after a very earnest attempt, the scheme to steal the Presidency, and having given up in despair the effort to prevent a Republican majority in the Senate by a fraud in the Delaware Legislative vote, is now bending its energies to the stealing of the organization of the next

House of Representatives. For this they are compelled to trust to the nerve and audacity of one man, John B. Clark of Missouri, the Clerk of the present House. It devolves upon him to make up the roll of the new House, and the Democrats claim that under the statute he has full discretion to determine whether a member has been legally elected or not. This is a dangerous power in the hands of a desperate and unscrupulous official, but it is not likely that Mr. Clark will attempt to exercise it. A good many things are going to happen before the meeting of the fifty-first Congress thirteen months hence, among them the inauguration and firm establishment of a Republican administration. This circumstance alone will probably serve to convince the plotters that the game is not worth the trouble and dishonor that would result, as the advantage would be short lived. However, it is to be noticed that the Democratic newspapers are eager for the steal. They are all proclaiming that their party has a majority in the House, and in this defiance of the fact that at least 170 Republican members-elect will go to Washington with the certificates of election from the Governors of their respective states in their pockets. The Republican majority in the House is too big to be overborne by fraud.

HARRISON'S SOUTHERN POLICY.

It will be as Broad and Generous as Lincoln's Would Have Been.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, Rep.]

Should we rush to force the states of the Solid South into the rule settlement of the most difficult of all questions, that of coming on the same soil? No. Let the Southern States gradually follow the example of old Virginia, where manhood suffrage is almost, and soon will be altogether, established beyond question. This is already beyond question. Harrison is a patriot and statesman, a soldier and a gentleman, a man of irreproachable honor and of tried and true courage, and he will make a President of whom the whole nation will be proud. He will be found as conservative and kind as Lincoln himself, and upon his exalted duties in the spirit of Lincoln in his first inaugural, "with malice toward none and charity for all." And that is the maxim we would urge all our fellow citizens to adopt in this day of triumph that is inconceivable, the reinstated Republican party may be worthy its high destiny in the guidance and control of the once more redeemed Republic, and to the boys who have won and are on the great march we say, "build golden bridges for the beaten enemy, and sing, rather than 'March to Georgia' any more, the 'Doxology'—and let the whole congregation join in the singing.

WHERE LOST AND WON.

What Happened in the Counties Where Warren Miller Did His Hard Work.

The Republican Presidential battle was lost within the shadow of the City Hall of New York and gained just beyond. It was lost in the thick of population around New York Bay and won in the rural homes of the great interior New York State.

New York City in its 57,000 majority for Cleveland. But for the most determined and skillful organization, it would have been 10,000 greater. The vote that lost New Jersey was the offshoot of New York and located not ten miles from the ferry. The vote that lost Connecticut was just at the corner which pours into New York by rail over Harlem Bridge and by water through Hell Gate. But the day was saved by the majestic column of 85,000 majority which came down from rural New York.

This is the vote that thinks it reads by the fireside. It is moved by great and high impulses. It is won by the appeal of right. That is the force to which Republican administration must address itself.

The way I was taken in was this: I had a lung trouble and I bought a bottle of the remedy. I was a stranger to it and it took me in—and cured me."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Indications for Friday: Threatening weather, north-easterly winds.

A MEAN SLANDER.

We have pointed out that in nearly all the manufacturing centers of this and other states the Democracy either held its own or made decided gains. It is plain that the Republicans chafed over their success to the effect of the tariff agitation upon the farming classes. This opposition is clinched by the returns from the distinctly agricultural counties of New York State.—Utica Observer.

The above is a mean and wilful slander on the "manufacturing centres" of the state. The assertion is sustained by picking out a few isolated districts here and there, like two wars in Utica or the City of Albany, where local causes prevailed over the great question of protection. The only fair method is to take the gains in the manufacturing counties and compare them with the entire state. This we will endeavor to do.

The leading manufacturing counties of the state are Albany, Broome, Cayuga, Chemung, Clinton, Cortland, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Fulton, Herkimer, Kings, Monroe, Montgomery, New York, Oneida, Onondaga, Orange, Oswego, Rensselaer, Rockland, Schoenectady, Ulster, Wayne and Westchester. These counties all contain cities or large towns which are manufacturing centres. Some of them have a rural population also, but as this element is dependent largely upon the factories for its market, it would be quite likely to vote for the interest of the factories.

The twenty-five counties named above, according to the table which we published yesterday, cast 426,890 votes for Harrison to 366,337 for Blaine, a gain of 50,553. This gain is 164 per cent, as any schoolboy can demonstrate. According to the same table the total vote for Harrison in the entire state is 629,064 with two small counties to hear from which will not add more than 6,000 to the Republican column. Making this allowance for these two counties, the total for Harrison in the state becomes 645,064. In 1880 Mr. Blaine's total was 562,001. The Republican gain in the whole state, therefore, is 83,063, or 144 per cent. The thirty-five rural counties by the same table cast 218,174 votes for Harrison, against 195,604 for Blaine. This is a gain of 22,570 votes or 11 1/2 per cent. The gain in the manufacturing counties is 21 per cent greater than in those that contain an almost exclusively agricultural population.

Another and even more conclusive test is the vote of those counties exclusively which contain the largest manufacturing cities of the state. We give the vote in full for 1884 and 1888:

	1884.	1888.
Albany	17,694	48,341
Broome	20,249	34,759
Cayuga	15,414	25,253
Chemung	18,326	32,276
Cortland	13,093	21,157
Dutchess	13,719	25,419
Essex	16,292	35,165
Fulton	13,719	25,419
Herkimer	13,719	25,419
Montgomery	13,719	25,419
New York	13,719	25,419
Oneida	13,719	25,419
Onondaga	13,719	25,419
Orange	13,719	25,419
Oswego	13,719	25,419
Rensselaer	13,719	25,419
Rockland	13,719	25,419
Schoenectady	13,719	25,419
Ulster	13,719	25,419
Wayne	13,719	25,419
Westchester	13,719	25,419

In these great manufacturing centres Harrison's gain upon Blaine is 47,413, or 18.86 per cent. Cleveland's gain over his vote in 1884 is 52,242 or 18.13 per cent. Even in these great centers the Republican gain is three-fourths of one per cent over the Democratic. If New York is excluded the other counties, all large manufacturing centres, show an actual majority for Harrison of 751, against a majority of 5,863 for Cleveland in 1884. In the counties of Albany, Erie, Kings, Monroe, Oneida, Onondaga and Rensselaer Harrison gains 31,556 votes over Blaine, or nearly 20 per cent, while Cleveland gains 24,342 over his vote of 1884, or less than 15 per cent.

The Democrats wrong themselves in trying to hide their defeat behind a juggle of figures. They have been beaten on the tariff issue, and beaten in the manufacturing centres of the state. If the gains of the Republican party had been no larger in these centres than in the rural counties it would have been defeated. The Democrats have four years in which to make another educational experiment with their theories of free trade if they please. But in the meantime the Republican party will continue the educational process of steady employment at good wages and a constantly increasing prosperity.

PITCHING INTO THE FARMERS.

It is now in order for the Democratic press to abuse the farmers for refusing to be "educated up" to the great principle of free trade. Here is another dose from the Utica Observer, a second article on the subject. We quote:

The results in New Jersey, Connecticut and the cities generally of this state show clearly enough that the workmen of our manufacturing centres gave more intelligent study to the question of tariff reform than any of our agricultural districts. It was in the country districts that the old war ideas and war taxes seemed to have their strongest foothold. One farmer said to a friend of mine: "How about that three hundred million dollars that England has sent over to carry the election for Cleveland? What is one to say in such a case? Only this, that the smart fellows who played off a lie on Lord Salisbury knew pretty well what kind of people they were working for. If it 'gud' enough to pay as well as to catch 'gud' enough as any other fish."

Now get right down to the foul work of blackguarding the farmers. They have stood nobly by the principles and the party that came between them and free wool, free vegetables, free lumber, free milk, etc. And yet they did not elect Harrison, there were not enough of them to do it. The great manufacturing counties of Albany, Erie, Kings, Monroe, Oneida, Onondaga and Rensselaer gave a majority to Harrison of 751, against a majority for Cleveland of 5,863 in 1884. Here is 6,614 of the 14,000 or 15,000 accounted for. The smaller manufacturing counties of Broome, Cayuga, Chemung, Clinton, Cortland, Dutchess, Essex, Fulton, Herkimer, Montgomery, Orange, Oswego, Rockland, Schoenectady, Ulster, Wayne and Westchester gave Harrison a gain over Blaine of 23,340, and Cleveland a gain over his vote of 1884 of only 7,784. Here is another net gain of 15,556, making a total gain of 22,170 in the manufacturing counties of the state excluding New York, which was controlled chiefly by bludgeon, and where the slum element outvotes the workmen. The farmers could not have carried the state without the great gain that the Republican party received from the manufacturing centres. All the same it is in order for the Democratic press to call them "gud'uns." They did not take kindly to Mr. Bice's "campaign of intellect."

STILL TRYING TO STEAL SOMETHING.

The Democrats having abandoned, after a very earnest attempt, the scheme to steal the Presidency, and having given up in despair the effort to prevent a Republican majority in the Senate by a fraud in the Delaware Legislative vote, is now bending its energies to the stealing of the organization of the next

House of Representatives. For this they are compelled to trust to the nerve and audacity of one man, John B. Clark of Missouri, the Clerk of the present House. It devolves upon him to make up the roll of the new House, and the Democrats claim that under the statute he has full discretion to determine whether a member has been legally elected or not. This is a dangerous power in the hands of a desperate and unscrupulous official, but it is not likely that Mr. Clark will attempt to exercise it. A good many things are going to happen before the meeting of the fifty-first Congress thirteen months hence, among them the inauguration and firm establishment of a Republican administration. This circumstance alone will probably serve to convince the plotters that the game is not worth the trouble and dishonor that would result, as the advantage would be short lived. However, it is to be noted that the Democratic newspapers are eager for the steal. They are all proclaiming that their party has a majority in the House, and in this defiance of the fact that at least 170 Republican members-elect will go to Washington with the certificates of election from the Governors of their respective states in their pockets. The Republican majority in the House is too big to be overcome by fraud.

HARRISON'S SOUTHERN POLICY.

It will be as Broad and Generous as Lincoln's would have been.

(From the Cincinnati Commercial, Rep.)
Shall we rush to force the states of the Solid South into the ranks of the Union? The most difficult of all questions, that of the coming of the same soil? No. Let the Southern States gradually follow the example of old Virginia, where manhood suffrage is almost, and soon will be altogether, established. This is already a wonderful progress. Harrison is a patriot and statesman, a soldier and a gentleman, a man of irreproachable honor and of tried courage, and will make a President of whom the whole nation will be proud. He will be found as conservative and kindly as Lincoln himself, and enter upon his exalted duties in the spirit of Lincoln in his first inaugural. "With me toward none and charity for all." And that is the maxim we would urge all our fellow citizens to adopt in this day of triumph that is incomparable, that the reinstated Republican party may be worthy its high destiny in the guidance and control of the once redeemed Republic, and to the boys who have won and are on the great march we would say, "build golden bridges for the beaten enemy, and bring the nation healing through Georgia," my more, the Doctor says—and let the whole congregation join in the singing.

WHERE LOST AND WON.

What Happened in the Counties Where Warner Miller Did His Hard Work.

(From the Philadelphia Press.)
The Republican Presidential battle was lost within the shadow of the City Hall of New York and gained just beyond. It was lost in the thick of the campaign, and won in the quiet of the rural homes of the great interior New York state. New York city rolls in with its 57,000 majority for Cleveland. But for the most determined and skillful opposition, it would have been 100,000 greater. The vote that lost New York was the offshoot of New York and located not ten miles from the city. The vote that lost Connecticut was just at that corner where New York by rail over Harlem Bridge and by water through Hell Gate. But the day was saved by the majestic column of 85,000 majority which came down from rural New York. This is the vote that thinks. It reads by the fireside. It is moved by great and high impulses. It is won by the appeal of right. That is the force to which Republican administration must address itself.

"TAKEN IN."

"I used often to read the newspaper aloud to my wife," said Bert Robinson, "and once I was fairly taken in by a patent medicine advertisement. The seductive paragraph began with a modest account of the sea-scurvy and its cure, and went on to the virtues of a certain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which, it was alleged, was a sure cure for all throat and lung troubles and would even cure consumption, if taken in time. The way I was taken in was this: I had a lung trouble and I bought a bottle of the remedy. I was a stranger to it and it took me in—and cured me."

HEARD ON THE STREETS.

LOCAL SHEAVES GATHERED TO-DAY FROM THE HARVEST OF NEWS.

And the Sickle Cut a Wide and Deep Swath Leaving no Aftermath, and all the Grain is Here in "Freeman" News Paragraphs.

Every phase, aspect, and circumstance of life suited Aristippus, though he aimed at higher objects, still submitting with an ungrudging countenance to the events of life.

It has been a comparatively dull day for news, local and telegraphic, yet nine columns of readable matter is presented in this issue of THE FREEMAN. Phases of life in this City and vicinity follow:

SOME OF THE WAYS OF SNAPEM, JR.
He is an Ingenious Lad, and His Frankness is of the Embarrassing Order.

"Boys will be boys." Snapem, Jr., is an ingenious lad. Indeed, his frankness is of the embarrassing and provoking kind. One day recently, his mother was entertaining lady callers. During a lull in the conversation, he blurted out: "Ma, do you know what Tommy Jones says? He says your false teeth don't look as natural as his mother's."

Last Sunday evening he insisted on accompanying the family to church. When the organ was playing softly, and the ushers were "passing around the plate," he whispered to his father audibly enough to be heard by the sisters in the pews near by: "Say, pa, ain't you going out now to see a man, like you did the night we were at Liscomb's?"

One night Mr. Softy, who was calling on Miss Snapem, stayed beyond his usual hour. Suddenly outside of the parlor door, Snapem, Jr., was heard whistling shrilly "I'll Tell Mother of You, Mary Ann," which was immediately followed by "Johnny Get Your Gun." Miss Snapem told her dearest friend that Mr. Softy "actually blushed."

Not long ago Snapem overtook a well-known Prohibitionist on the street. Touching him on the arm to attract his attention, he asked politely: "Did you drop this book, sir?" at the same time thrusting into the astonished man's hand a well-worn, paper-covered book with this title: "The Art of Compounding Popular Drinks by an Experienced Bartender."

Some people say that the boy is a "knowing one," but Snapem, Sr., says it is "pure guileless."

VARIOUS FRIENDLY SOCIETY MATTERS.

K. of P. Anniversary Celebrated in Marlborough—Notes About Other Orders.

The members of Guiding Star Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Marlborough, celebrated the Fifth Anniversary of that Lodge on Wednesday night. The Committee of Arrangements carried out an entertaining programme. District Deputy Chancellor Commander S. J. Hull, of Franklin Lodge, of Kingston, delivered an address. He gave a history of the rise and growth of the order in the United States. The Rev. S. F. White, Pastor of the M. E. Church in Marlborough, delivered an address on the need and usefulness of benevolent organizations from a Christian standpoint. The musical programme was supplemented with selections rendered by the Ketcham Post Brass Band. W. H. Henderson presented to the Lodge a hand-somely engraved bible and altar covering. The covers of the book are filled with silver emblems symbolical of the mottoes of the order. A supper was served to the invited guests. Representatives from lodges in Newburgh, Kingston, Wappingers Falls, Poughkeepsie, New Paltz and elsewhere were represented.

OTHER SOCIETY NEWS.

Rondout's Good Templars will hold a meeting to-morrow evening. This afternoon from 3 to 60 members of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Kingston, went to New York City, on a West Shore train, to pay a fraternal visit to the members of Ashland Lodge. Last winter the members of Ashland Lodge were entertained here by the members of Franklin Lodge.

SOME INFORMATION ABOUT CABBAGE.

The Heads Are Large in Size This Year—A Rondout Dealer Gives These Points.

"Even for this, give thanks." A Rondout dealer said this forenoon: "Cabbage is cabbage this year and no mistake. I have handled heads that weighed 22 pounds each. The cause of this large growth is due to the long season of wet weather. The average price of the vegetable is $4 per 100 heads. No man need starve when he can get a 22-pound head of cabbage for five or six cents. The heads are the hum of the savor krait machine is heard. One provision dealer told me that he had sold 300 sacks of salt to be used in the manufacture of sauer kraut. People have different methods of keeping cabbage for winter use. Some bury them in the ground, leaving the stalks sticking out as a mark where to find them. Others dig holes and put barrels in them. The barrels are filled with cabbage and a cloth put over the top. The vegetable is preserved very good in this way. A cold cellar is also a good place to keep cabbage. I know families in this town who eat cabbage for dinner five times a week, and never grow tired of it."

THE EXPOSITION IN AUGUSTA, GA.

What a Former Resident of Rondout Has to Say About It.

Things are not always what they seem to be—Pseudo. Eugene, a son of Willbur L. Hale, of this City, now a resident of Augusta, Ga., writes as follows, under date of November 11, in reference to the Exposition being held in that City: "The Exposition opened on Thursday, November 8, but thus far it has not been as successful as was expected. The military days will be the 12th, 13th and 14th, and it is expected there will be 10,000 strangers in the City. There is already a large number of militiamen in the City and to-morrow there will be a sham battle. Yesterday was Governor's Day, and although about 20 or 25 Government bands promised to honor the Exposition with their presence only one arrived, Governor Richardson, of South Carolina. It is said the Exposition is more complete than any other held in the South."

MINOR NOTES AROUND THIS TOWN.

Facts, Fancies and Gossip Heard by Reporters Here This Day.

Surely, then, he who lives well is both blessed and happy, and he who does not, the opposite.—Plato. "Indications" promises threatening weather for Friday.

The sewer on Pierpont-street, Rondout, has been completed.

An article in reference to newspaper work; produce market report, and vicinity news from correspondents of THE FREEMAN on page 8.

Last night the moon had a singular appearance. There was a light, misty ring around it. In the ring, on two sides, was a clearly-defined star. Old weather prophets in Rondout say that each star denotes a day's rain.

An Allegory, Perhaps.
Judge—"I understand the prisoner said that it was a free trade between you and him."

"Yes, your Honor, but the horse was spavined, blind in one eye and has got the heaves."

Judge—"Are you a Republican or a Democrat?"

Judge—"Then you believe in free trade."

"Yes, your Honor, in the pipes seven hours. Steam soon loses its heating power after the furnace is closed."

Gone to Fortress Monroe.
The New York Sun says that Judge A. B. Parker, of this City, in company with Governor Hill, started for Fortress Monroe on Wednesday.

SOME MORE POLITICAL AFTERMATH.

Republicans Make Merry at East-Kingston—What Prohibitionists Are Claiming.

"They laugh who win." A Republican jubilee was held at Hyde Park last evening.

Last night the Republicans of Philmont, Columbia County, had a parade.

Prohibitionists are claiming, in addition to defeating Warner Miller, that they originated the cry "He's all Right!"

Charles S. Parnell, the leader of the Irish Home Rule party, makes John Bull read his Shakespeare thus: "Now is the summer of our content made inglorious winter by this son of Corc."

E. N. Howell, of Poughkeepsie, is arranging to take the Howell Battery to Washington when General Harrison is inaugurated. He will buy the members new uniforms, furnish a brass band and a special car.

An enthusiastic woman in Kingston, the other night, was asked if she would illuminate her house if the Republicans paraded. She said: "Yes, I will illuminate the whole house, and if it is necessary I will burn it up."

The election of Harrison and Morton was celebrated at East Kingston last night. The Harrison and Morton uniforms club turned out with ranks, preceded by a band. There were many pretty illuminations, fireworks and blazing tar barrels. A meeting was held on Harrison Heights, after the parade, and songs were sung and the cannon fired. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

The Republicans of Stamford celebrated the election of Harrison and Morton on Tuesday night, by a torch-light procession through the streets of that pretty little village. Private and public buildings were elaborately illuminated. There were many handsome flag decorations. The procession was headed by the Stamford Cornet Band. Speeches were made and enthusiasm ran high.

Politics are still warmly discussed in Rondout. This noon the following was heard in the dining-room of a hotel on The Strand: "I tell you, sir, that Governor Hill is a—bring me another cup of coffee—a schemer, and—pass me the sugar plums—baels, yes, I'll take a few—the efforts of the whiskey—gosh, but that coffee's hot—men. The Prohibitionists aided in his—no more soup, thanks—election, and I'll be damned—yes, the beef's good—if I don't believe half of them take—I'll take pumpkin pie—their whiskey straight. There is one thing that I am glad of, and that is—just hand me a fork, will you?—Harrison and Morton are elected. We've got a right to cry four, four—no more pie—four months more. Gimme a tooth-pick."

BEFORE RECORDER HUSSEY HERE.

Two Young Men Found Guilty of Stealing—A Colored Man Sent to Jail.

There is nothing worse for mortals than a vagabond life.—Homer.

This forenoon two young men named Edward M. Holdrich and M. B. Osterhoudt were arraigned on a charge of petty larceny, the complainant being a travelling salesman named Joseph Colthurst. On the witness stand Colthurst said that he was in O'Pray's Hotel, on Union-avenue, this City, last night. He held a package of clothes valued at $5 on the chair. At the time the accused men were also in the hotel, but left shortly after his arrival. Colthurst looked for his package, but it was gone. He suspected that the young men had taken it, and calling an officer, he had them arrested. The package was found in their possession. Osterhoudt, in defense, said that his friend had a package about the size and appearance of the salesman's, and believing the bundle on the chair in the hotel was the one owned by his friend, he took it. His story did not hold water. When asked what became of the boxes that the cigars were taken from and transferred to his and his companion's pockets, he remained mum as an oyster. The evidence of Colthurst and the officers who made the arrest was so conclusive that the men were guilty that the Recorder so ruled, and sentenced them each to pay a fine of $25 or spend 60 days in the Ulster County Jail. Holdrich said that he was 23 years old and that he lived in Catskill, where he stated his brother was a member of the Board of Trustees. Osterhoudt said that he was 26 years old and was a traveling man.

This forenoon a colored man named Alexander DuBois was sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County Jail, in Kingston, for disorderly conduct.

THEFTS AT MILTON.

Burglars entered the carpenter shop of John Clearwater, in Milton, on Tuesday, and stole a lot of carpenter tools. The property was traced to Poughkeepsie, where it had been sold by the thieves. Early on Wednesday morning three men were arrested on suspicion. They were taken before Justice Ransley, in Milton. During the hearing one of the number, Gustavus Rowley, confessed. Rowley implicated his companions who then pleaded guilty. They were each sentenced to the Albany Penitentiary.

OTHER PHASES OF THE SEAMY SIDE.

A valuable horse, wagon, harness and robe were stolen, on Sunday night, from the barn of Frederick Pultz, of Claverack.

An attempt was made to burglarize the residence of ex-Mayor Innis, at Poughkeepsie, this morning. The burglars were frightened away before they effected an entrance.

Philip Anson and George Stanton, of La Grange township, Dutchess County, notorious chicken thieves, have been sentenced to the Albany Penitentiary for six months each.

What a Florist Says.

A Kingston florist who has tried every method of heating his conservatory, says that there is nothing equal to hot water. With hot water, even when the thermometer indicates 14 degrees below zero, he can leave his furnace at midnight and the buildings will remain warm until 7 o'clock the next morning. The water will not warm in the pipes seven hours. Steam soon loses its heating power after the furnace is closed.

THE Democrats of Delaware are hesitating about counting out a Republican from the State Senate. It would only tie the Legislature and make an election of United States Senator impossible by themselves, while the Republicans, still claiming a majority, would proceed with the election and send their man to Washington. In that event there is not the slightest doubt in any Democratic mind that he would be admitted. There are a good many Democrats who rejoice over the downfall of Saulsbury and Bayard, and do not wish to see them restored to power. Altogether, it looks as if the next Senator from Delaware will be a Republican, and that he will be elected regularly and without dispute. "The world moves."

ABOUT NEWSPAPER WORK.

WHAT CONSTITUTES THE TRUE ART OF THE PROFESSION.

A Man Must Have the Patience of Job, be an Encyclopedia, Thrive on Promises, Fatten on Stove Wood, and, Above All, be a Gentleman.

Men habitually underestimate the paralyzing effect of mental laziness even in the cultivated, and consequently waste, in efforts to develop powers apparently wanting, energy which should be devoted to the training of the will.—London Spectator.

He who seeks the newspaper profession pays court to a jealous mistress. With her, brass cannot counterfeit brain, nor a superfluity of words hide a scarcity of ideas. Her votaries need not expect feathered accommodations, nor a strawberry-and-cream diet. She tempests not the winds of adversity to the overcoat in the pawnshop, nor brings success to the haggard, the drone or the unworthy. There is no profession in which the sham or the shirk is less likely to succeed than in journalism. From the humblest country editor, who harnesses his devil to the hand press, to his more favored city brother, who rides cross-legged in the elevator and is never forced to straddle the burning issue of prohibition or lose a subscriber, this assertion applies absolutely and rigorously. Journalism is the world's most thorough democracy. In it, the man who carries his capital in his hat is more than the equal of him who carries it in his pocket. The friendless breather of the truth affluents can climb from the lowest drudgery of the basement to the highest editorial tower, while all the polish of the end-man's mislaid bones cannot prevail to lift an intruder above the waste basket.

Every man who enters a newspaper is not a newspaper man. The real newspaper is created, not manufactured. The brightest of journalism is not bought, neither can it be sold. Its glamour lurks in blood and brain; the spell of its enchantment licks with life. It is a profession, demanding peculiar qualifications, and calling into exercise a life talent exclusively its own. The ability of a Webster cannot supplant the nose for news, nor the genius of a Burke minister to minds that subtle mental gifts, which enlarges and elevates, while amusing them.

The joys of journalism are peculiarly its own. The pure delight of a well-trained paragrapher, the happy consciousness of a timely leader, the restful satisfaction of work done thoroughly done and appreciated by those for whom it is done, the children of his brain grooving in favor, and waxing strong in public esteem—these are indeed pleasures which none but the newspaper man knows, and which repay weary hours of toil and sacrifice to the profession which grinds the life and wears the energy as does no other.

The newspaper man is a necessity, evolved of civilization, intelligence and progression. Begotten neither in the age of chivalry, when the right of brass was yielded to the right of brown, nor yet in that more remote Darwinian period when our ancestors surveyed the universe from the tree tops, and monkey-armed among the woods as best they could for a living, this modern agent of demand for supply, this professional descendant of the humble Gutenberg printer, stands today the sentinel upon the houseposts for all human advancement. No uncrowned martyr ever deserved more, or received less, than he does. He must work for his friends and forget that he has enemies. He must bear the sins of others, and an occasional small transgression of his own. He must have the patience of Job, and the presence of mind of all the saints. He must hold the reins with the greatest care, and which long since had forgotten its creator. He must have the littleness of big men. He must strive on promises, fatten on stove wood, and bless God in every issue that his lot is cast among the best people of the world, ever saw.

He must have a carefully reserved and preserved fund of modesty, compounded with an expense of cheek that, in adversity cannot strike without disaster to itself. He must be at home on all subjects from a horse to the Wars of Russia, from politics to religion. He must be an encyclopedia, a pack horse, a step-ladder, a bank in which all private secrets and public trusts are deposited—and above all things, and at all times, he must be a gentleman.

For successful newspaper work, honesty is to be more desired than brains. Honesty is always honorable and honored, even though it be pig-headed. Without it, the brainy man is a royal ship, lacking both anchor and rudder. It is not the brilliant man, nor the learned man, nor the great man, who is the noblest work of God's hand. And this honesty must include the public and not exclude himself. In all things—save marriage notices, at all times—honesty is to be desired. Through all the web of words and warp of editorial bias should permeate the tincture of a sound, keen common sense. No life can be perfectly rounded which has not common sense for its basis. The newspaper man must bring it to bear on every phase of his existence. He must use it in dealing with great events, as well as his washerwoman. Failing in this, he will soon be the possessor of a circulation walked out of between meals, and himself homeless when he next begins. He cannot butt against reason, or fail to lead common sense by the nose because of his fancied ability to hold on to the nose.

Another prime quality to success in newspaper life is energy. If a man does not how incorporate the honesty, how bright the talent, how worthy the man, the talents will rust, honesty will prove a millstone, the man himself run to seed, if he is not up and doing. Nothing in life, from the nourishment the infant draws from the maternal breast to the blushing maiden he draws to his own, comes without asking. The newspaper man can pay down his energy when he puts on his shirt, and not later. When to the qualities enumerated are added a force of nothing but God, a love for nothing but man, a heart devoid of malice, a pure mind, a devotion to duty for duty's sake, indeed, we have the perfect newspaper man.—J. M. Richardson, of the Glasgow, Kentucky Times.

INSTINCT IN BRUTES. Few things are more wonderful than the instinct that guides the brute in the choice of its food and medicine. In India the mongoose, when bitten by the deadly cobra, is said to seek among the grass for some small insect, which it eats, and which is thereby called to counteract the effect of the poison. Man, when his system is deranged by the action of poison, is governed by a similar instinct, and seeks relief by the use of a remedy which will establish a permanently healthy action of the liver, stomach and bowels.

CHERRY BALM.

For the cure of coughs, colds, sore throat, diphtheria, diseased lungs, asthma, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc., and all acute affections of the air passages, the chest, the pleura and the lungs. It contains no deleterious drug and can be safely administered to the most debilitated adult or the most delicate child. It strikes at the very root of pulmonary disease. Never conclude that a dry cough "will get well of itself in a few days." It may do so on the other hand, by neglecting it, one may lay the foundation of an incurable pulmonary or throat trouble. Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balm will relieve the cough at once and immediately prevent its becoming seated. Those whose business obliges them to travel and who labor more or less under chronic, consumptive or bronchial coughs, should not fail to carry with them a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balm, taking it occasionally in small doses as they may feel the need. The cough will abate almost on the instant and the breathing and expectoration become more easy and free. It soothes any sense of irritation that may exist, subdues inflammation or soreness in the lungs, throat and air passages, and prevents attacks which are always embarrassing and may prove serious during an absence from home. No other preparation offered to the public possesses anything like the power of this one over these common and dangerous complaints. To all right feeling persons it is a privilege as well as a duty to provide for the comfort of the aged parents or other relatives who live with and depend upon them. A valuable help in this direction is Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balm, which is more perfectly adapted than anything else to quiet and cure the winter cough to which so many old people are subject. Whether the cough arises from some chronic trouble or from mere feebleness and lack of vitality this gentle and safe medicine is equally effective.

SOME OF THE WAYS OF SNAPEM, JR.

He is an Ingenious Lad, and His Frankness is of the Embarrassing Order.

"Boys will be boys."

Snape, Jr., is an ingenious lad. Indeed, his frankness is of the embarrassing and provoking kind. One day recently, his mother was entertaining lady callers. During a lull in the conversation, he blurted out: "Ma, do you know what Tommy Jones says? He says your false teeth don't look as natural as his mother's."

Last Sunday evening he insisted on accompanying the family to church. When the organ was playing softly, and the users were "passing around the plate," he whispered to his father audibly enough to be heard by the sisters in the pews near by: "Say, pa, ain't you going out now to see a man, like you did the night we were at Liscomb's?"

One night Mr. Snapp, who was calling on Miss Snapp, stood behind his usual hour. Suddenly outside of the parlor door, Snapp, Jr., was heard whispering shrilly: "I'll tell Mother of you, Mary Ann," which was immediately followed by "Johnny, Get Your Gun." Miss Snapp told her dearest friend that Mr. Snapp "actually blurted."

Not long ago Snapp overtook a well-known prohibitionist on the street. Touching him on the arm to attract his attention, the boy asked politely: "Did you drop this book, sir?" at the same time thrusting into the astonished man's hand a well-worn, paper-covered book with this title: "The Art of Compounding Popular Drinks by an Experienced Bartender."

Some people say that the boy is a "knowing one," but Snapp, Sr., says it is "pure guilelessness."

VARIOUS FRIENDLY SOCIETY MATTERS.

K. of P. Anniversary Celebrated in Marlborough—Notes About Other Orders.

The members of Guiding Star Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Marlborough, celebrated the Fifth Anniversary of that Lodge on Wednesday night. The Committee of arrangements carried out an entertaining programme. District Deputy Chancellor Commander S. J. Hull, of Franklin Lodge, of Kingston, delivered an address. He gave a history of the rise and growth of the order in the United States. The Rev. S. F. White, Pastor of the M. E. Church in Marlborough, delivered an address on the need and usefulness of benevolent organizations from a Christian standpoint. Music was furnished by a select choir. The musical programme was supplemented with selections rendered by the Ketchum Post Band. W. H. Henderson presented to the Lodge a handsome engraved bible and altar covering. The covers of the book are inlaid with silver emblems symbolical of the mottoes of the order. A supper was served to the invited guests. Representatives from lodges in Newburgh, Kingston, Wappingers Falls, Poughkeepsie, New Paltz and elsewhere were represented.

OTHER SOCIETY NEWS.

Rondout's Good Templars will hold a meeting to-morrow evening.

This afternoon from 50 to 60 members of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Kingston, went to New York City, on a West Shore train, to pay a fraternal visit to the members of Ashland Lodge. Last winter the members of Ashland Lodge were entertained here by the members of Franklin Lodge.

SOME INFORMATION ABOUT CABBAGE.

The Heads Are Large in Size this Year—A Rondout Dealer Gives Points.

"Even for this, give thanks."

A Rondout dealer said this forenoon: "Cabbage is cabbage this year and no mistake. I have handled heads that weighed 22 pounds each. The cause of this large growth is due to the long season of wet weather. The average price of the vegetable is $4 per 100 heads. No man need starve when he can get a 22-pound head of cabbage for five or six cents. Just now in this City the hum of the sauer kraut machine is heard. One provision dealer told me that he had sold over 30 sacks of salt to be used in the manufacture of sauer kraut. People have different methods of keeping cabbage for winter use. Some bury them in the ground, leaving the stalks sticking out as a mark where to find them. Others dig holes and put barrels in them. The barrels are filled with cabbage and a cloth put over the top. The vegetable is preserved very good in this way. A cold cellar is also a good place to keep cabbage. I know families in this town who eat cabbage for dinner five times a week, and never grow tired of it."

THE EXPOSITION IN AUGUSTA, GA.

What a Former Resident of Rondout Has to Say About It.

Things are not always what they seem to be—Facts.

Eugene, a son of Wilbur L. Hale, of this City, now a resident of Augusta, Ga., writes as follows, under date of November 11, in reference to the Exposition being held in that City: "The Exposition opened on Thursday, November 8, but thus far it has not been as successful as was expected. The military days will be the 12th, 13th and 14th, and it is expected there will be 10,000 strangers in the City. There is already a large number of militiamen in the City and to-morrow there will be a sham battle. Yesterday was Governor's Day, and although about 20 or 25 Governors had promised to honor the Exposition with their presence only one arrived, Governor Richardson, of South Carolina. It is said the Exposition is more complete than any other ever held in the South."

SOME MORE POLITICAL AFTERMATH.

Republicans Make Merry at East-Kingston—What the Prohibitionists Are Claiming.

"They laugh who win."

A Republican jubilee was held at Hyde Park last evening.

Last night the Republicans of Philmont, Columbia County, had a parade.

Prohibitionists are claiming, in addition to defeating Warner Miller, that they originated the cry "He's all right!"

Charles S. Parrell, the leader of the Irish Home Rule party, makes John Bull read the Shakespeare text: "Now is the summer of our content most inglorious winter by this son from Cork."

E. N. Howell, of Poughkeepsie, is arranging to take the Howell Battery to Washington when General Harrison is inaugurated. He will buy the members new uniforms, furnish a brass band and a special car.

An enthusiastic woman in Kingston, the other night, was asked if she would illuminate her house for the Republicans paraded. She said: "Yes, I will illuminate the whole house, and if it is necessary I will burn it up."

The election of Harrison and Morton was celebrated at East Kingston last night. The Harrison and Morton uniformed club turned out with full ranks, preceded by a band. There were many party illuminations, fireworks and blazing tar barrels. A meeting was held on Harrison Heights, after the parade, and songs were sung and the cannon fired. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

The Republicans of Stamford celebrated the election of Harrison and Morton, on Tuesday night, with a torch-light procession through the streets of that pretty little village. Private and public buildings were elaborately illuminated. There were many hand-carried flags. The procession was headed by the Stamford Cornet Band. Speeches were made and enthusiasm ran high.

Politics are still warmly discussed in Rondout. This morning the following was heard in the dining room of a hotel on The Strand: "I tell you, sir, that Governor Hill is a bringer of another cup of coffee—a schemer, and—pass me the sugar, please—he needs watching. He was elected through—beats, yes, I'll take it—the efforts of the whiskey agents, but that coffee's hot—men."

The prohibitionists aided in his—no more soup, thanks—election, and I'll be glad darned—yes, the beef's good—if I don't believe half of their take—I'll take pumpkin pie—their whiskey straight. There is one thing that will win you, and that is hand me a fork, will you, sir—Harrison and Morton are elected. We've got a right to cry four, four—a more pie—four months more. Gimme a toothpick."

BEFORE RECORDER HUSSEY HERE.

Two Young Men Found Guilty of Stealing—A Colored Man Sent to Jail.

There is nothing more for mortals than a vagabond life—Homer.

This forenoon two young men named Edward M. Holdrich and M. B. Osterhout were arraigned on a charge of petty larceny, the complaint being a traveling salesman named Joseph Colhurst. On the witness stand Colhurst said that he was in O'Pray's store, on Union-avenue, this City, last night. He laid a package of samples valued at $5 on a chair. At the time the accused men were also in the hotel, but left shortly after his arrival. Colhurst looked for his package, but it was gone. He suspected that the young men had taken it, and calling an officer, he had them arrested. The package was found in their possession. Osterhout, in defense, said that his friend had a package about the size and appearance of the salesman's, and believing the bundle on the chair in the hotel was the one owned by his friend, he took it. His story did not hold well together. When asked what became of the boxes that the cigars were taken from and transferred to his and his companion's pockets, he remained silent. The evidence of Colhurst and the officers who made the arrest was so conclusive that the men were guilty that the Recorder so ruled, and sentenced them each to a fine of $25 or spend 60 days in the Ulster County Jail. Holdrich said that he was 23 years old and that he lived in Catskill, where he stated his brother was a member of the Board of Trustees. Osterhout said that he was 26 years old and was a traveling man.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

The Methodist Episcopal Church began its annual session yesterday in St. Paul's Church, in Fourth-avenue. Bishop Merrill presided.

The greater part of the day was occupied in determining what amount of money should be asked of the Methodist churches next year for home and foreign Missions. The report of the Treasurer, J. M. Bishop Andrews and many of the other delegates were in favor of placing the amount to be raised at $1,000,000. Bishops Walden, Newman, Hurst and others urged that the amount should be $1,200,000. Dr. Cranston, of Cincinnati, proposed that the amount be placed at $1,100,000, and $100,000 more be appropriated for carrying out the plan.

Dr. Cranston's amendment was finally adopted, and to day the appropriations for the different parts of the country will begin.—Tribune.
